Inseparable from Local Welfare.

A major political party can survive a long period of defeat of its presidential candidates, as the Democratic Party which didn't even get close to control of the White house in 1924, 1928 and 1932, an example demonstrated today.

But can a major party survive an election in which its official candidate is defeated by a third party candidate, as happened in the recent election in Maine?

Again America
Shows the Way
By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Throughout much of its history our American Republic has served as a model to various nations determined to supplant the evils of Rule by the Few, with the benefits of Government by the People.

Today it continues to offer, by example, a chart to the path that leads toward peace and progress.

Contrasting pictures from the latest screen of world affairs tell the story.

While the Fascist and Communistic states of Europe are expanding and refurbishing their machinery of War, the United States is following the opposite course.

Its highest officials are meeting with those of neighbor nations in a determined effort to oil the Machinery of Peace.

While Spain is attempting to invalidate the ballots of popular election with the bullets of rebellion, America follows its traditional way.

It is submerging political differences, while winners and losers alike seek effective methods of cooperation in the cause of reemployment and recovery.

There stand two striking contrasts, which the detractors of America and of the American way of doing things might do well to study.

There wait two convincing answers to those fervid propagandists who tell us to look to the Fascism or the Communism of Europe, instead of to the representative democracy of the United States, for guidance in our national life.

America looked within—and not abroad—when it won and established a form of Government by the People that became a model for the oppressed of all lands.

America can still demonstrate that that form of government does more to assure national growth and international concord than any of the desperate experiments which now trouble Europe.

MOTORIST GETS $112 BONDS
AND TAX COLLECTOR TAKES $37

Improved methods in the refining and cracking of crude oil have enabled the petroleum industry to obtain almost twice as many gallons of gasoline from a barrel of oil as was possible in 1924. These technological advances have enabled the industry to pass the economic gains to the consumer with the result that the average retail price of a gallon of gasoline has been reduced from 29 7/8¢ in 1924 to only 13 1/2¢ in 1935.

Since the average U. S. motorist uses two gallons of gasoline a year, this means that American motorists are laying out a saving of $112.50 on gasoline at a saving of $112.50 more than last year what motorists must not lose the saving by paying more for gasoline taxes.

Two and two gallons of gasoline cost $26.18 in 1935 were only $14.06 in 1924. The 760 gallons of gasoline used in 1935 cost $10.29 less than in 1924.

When a motorist pays $112.50 more for gasoline taxes, he is paying for a gasoline tax which is a treatment for a disease, a drug house which is a machine for producing a disease.

West Paris Home Damaged

The dwelling house on Main St., owned by E. J. Mann and occupied by his son, Lewis J. Mann, and family, caught fire from an overheated furnace Sunday night about 1:15 and a conflagration was narrowly averted. Mr. and Mrs. Mann were awakened by the smoke-filled house in their night clothes. Mr. Mann carried his little daughter to his father's house next door and returned to the house for his dog and a collection of books. He was overcome by smoke and fell unconscious as he got out doors. He was taken to his father's house where first aid was rendered and a physician called from Norway, as Dr. Kay was in New York.

Considerable furniture, nearly new was water-soaked and the house inside was quite badly damaged by water, smoke, holes chopped, and the fire which burnt considerably.

Oxford Poultrymen Formed Unit of State Ass'n

On Thursday evening, November 19, a group of Oxford County poultrymen met in Bethel to discuss the possibilities of forming a unit of the Maine Poultry Improvement Association.

Gardner Hayden of Raymond, President of the State Association, was present and told some of the things that the organization has accomplished and also told about the New York Poultry Show from which he had just returned.

Fifteen poultrymen attended the meeting and decided it would be well to form a unit of the State Association in Oxford County. Eleven members joined that night and officers were elected as follows:

President, Harold E. Elliot, Rumford; Vice President, J. C. Bartlett, East Bethel; Secretary and Treasurer, Merton M. Lake, Welch. The men present were especially anxious to get the required 15 members before November 27 so they would be entitled to a representative at the State Directors' Meeting on that date. They had little doubt but what this could be accomplished and Mr. Elliot, president of the local unit will also be the director.

The next meeting of the association will take place in Bethel on Friday, Dec. 11. Robert Hastings Ray Blake, for several months, is in very poor health. She is confined to a chair as she is unable to walk. On Dec. 12 she will observe her 65th birthday and would appreciate cards or letters from her friends at that time.

The Golden Text is, "I am the Lord that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself" (Isaiah 44:24).

The citations from the Bible include the following passages: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast" (Ps. 33: 6, 8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is. Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one, and are the Scriptural names for God. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause and effect belong to God" (Page 275: 10-15).

Testimonial meetings at 7:30 p. m. on the second Wednesday of each month until May.

Christian Science Society

Thanksgiving Service

A special Thanksgiving Day service was observed by many of the people of the Bethel Christian Science Society at 7:30 p. m. at the regular place of worship on Chasman Street.

It was a most interesting and inspiring meeting. The First Reader, after opening the service with an appropriate hymn from the Christian Science Hymnal, read the Thanksgiving Proclamation and then read a scriptural selection taken from the King James Version of the Bible as found in Psalm 95:1-7; 96:2-4, 8-8, 11, 12; 105:1-7, 8, 41-45.

Upon invitation the audience joined in silent prayer after which they repeated the Lord's Prayer. The spiritual interpretation of the Lord's Prayer as given in the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was read by the First Reader in the usual way.

After another hymn, the subject of the meeting was announced, "Thanksgiving" with this Golden Text, "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will mention him with thanksgiving" (Psalm 69:30).

One of the Scriptural passages contained in the Lesson-Sermon was from the hundredth Psalm, "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Enter into his courts with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name."

As is usual in all Christian Science services, passages correlated to the Bible readings were read from the Christian Science Textbook among which was the following: "Are we really grateful for good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses gratitude than speech" (Science and Health page 3:22-25).

Many in the audience gave testimonies expressing their heartfelt gratitude for healings, restoration and spiritual growth, resulting from the application of Christian Science to their individual problems.

Following the closing hymn, the First Reader read the Statement of Being from the Christian Science Textbook (page 4) and the correlative Scripture of the Bible (1 John 3:1-3) and benediction from the book of 11 Corinthians 4:15 thus concluding the service.
